

Software License Agreement (User)

The Ohio Supercomputer Center (OSC) has a license for the software listed above. Each individual granted academic access to the software shares the responsibilities governing usage of the Licensed Program. This form ensures that all users have seen and agree to the terms of use that were given to you in the Software License Agreement (SLA).

By signing this form, you acknowledge that you have seen and agree to all terms and conditions defined in the SLA given to your Principal Investigator (PI). Your PI has agreed to guide and supervise you to uphold these terms, as well as take responsibility for your software use.

Violation of the terms agreed upon in the SLA for the software which you've been granted access is grounds for disabling your OSC account and restricting access to our resources.
